end note

It's been a long time.

In the years since you first walked this campus, much has changed. You have certainly changed; you leave here older, wiser, perhaps more aware. And the world has changed with you. It will never seem quite as simple as it did when you first came here. That's the way it should be. It's one of the results of aging, maturing, becoming an adult.

Still, some things never change. One hopes that your dedication to those ideals that characterize the student body of Mount de Sales never changes. One hopes that you accept the challenges of the years ahead in the way you accepted the challenges that were put to you on these grounds. One hopes that your faith never changes. It is one of the most important things about us.

You have found the answers to many questions here. Perhaps, in the years ahead, you will find the answers to other questions, too. And maybe, you will realize that this place, and these people here, have really changed you.

We who have taught you and watched you grow hope that here, in this community of believers, you have found the answer to a most important question.

What is life without commitment?

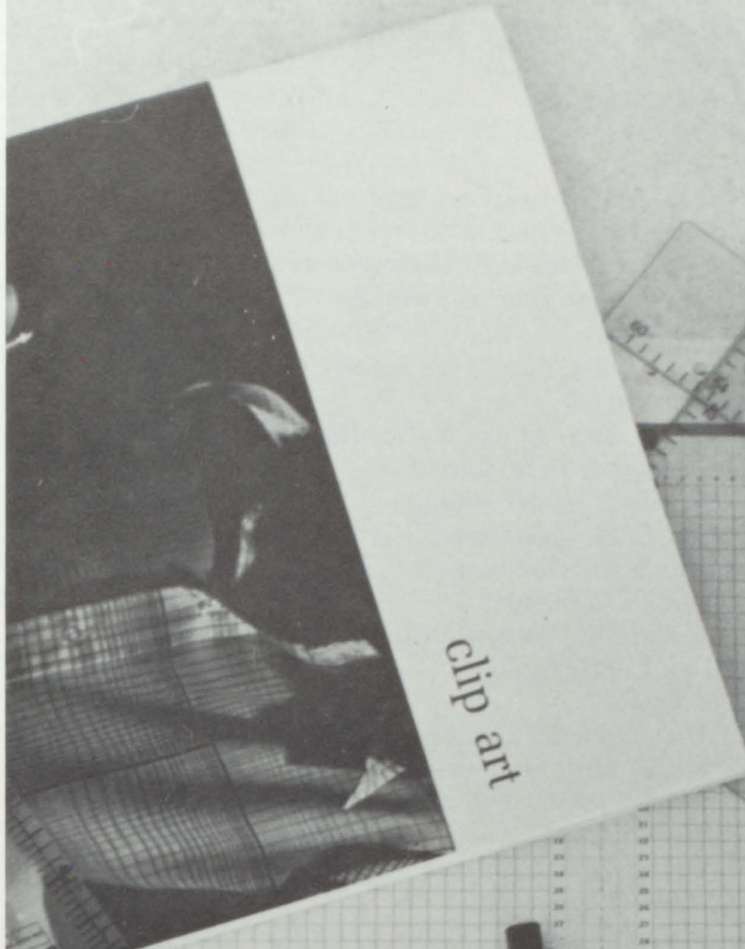

There are places I'll remember
All my life, though some have changed.
Some forever, not for better
Some have gone, and some remain.

All these places have their meaning
With people and friends I still can recall.
I know I'll often stop and think about them
In my life, I've loved them all.
